

THE IMPEACHMENT.

"Then, too, all on. O ship of State,
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Honesty with all its force,
With all the strength of your rear,
Is hanging breathless on thy late."

THE REPUBLICANS DO NOT SURRENDER THE SHIP—THE PEOPLE MAY YET WIN BY ONE OR TWO VOTES—MR. WILLEY THE PIVOTAL SENATOR—GRIMES, TRUMBULL, FESSENDEN, FOWLER, HENDERSON, AND VAN WINKLE WITH THE MONARCHY—ANTHONY, SPRAGUE, WILLEY, AND ROSS IN DOUBT—HENDERSON'S CORRUPT AGREEMENT WITH THE PRESIDENT—MEETING OF THE DOUBTERS—THE VOTE TO BE TAKEN TO-DAY.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 15, 1868.

Speculation and rumor fill the Capital to-night, and it is all, of course, relative to the result of the expected vote on impeachment to-morrow. The Democrats are very confident that the Court will acquit the President; but Republicans have not lost all hope of conviction by the concentration of sufficient strength on the principal article to insure the removal of Mr. Johnson. Still the result is problematical, and I need not dispute the fact that the prospect is by no means bright. It may be added that if we succeed, it will be by only one or two majority. A careful canvass by some of the most sagacious members of Congress shows that the verdict hinges in a great measure on the vote of Mr. Willey of West Virginia. Grimes, Trumbull, Fessenden, Fowler, Henderson, and Van Winkle are counted certain for acquittal. The doubtful Senators are Anthony, Sprague, Willey, and Ross.

The indications to-night are that Mr. Anthony will vote for conviction on a majority of the articles. He has spoken very strongly on the subject, and made known his doubts of the wisdom of Impeachment; but, on the other hand, he is quite clear in his views of the President's guilt. He will, it is generally believed, vote with us. Mr. Sprague, too, is set down on the conviction side. Owing to his peculiar relations, he is placed in a very embarrassing position, and has been for weeks subjected to a pressure which would tend to lead him the other way. However, in the secret deliberations during the trial, he invincibly took strong ground for conviction; and hence I infer that it is more probable that he will vote that way. The grounds for supposing that Mr. Ross will vote for conviction are that within a short time a member of Congress gave him a piece of paper with the first, second, third, eighth, and eleventh articles marked. Mr. Ross drew his pen through the eighth, and said that he would go for the others. Col. Green, a member of the State Senate of Kansas, a resident of Lawrence, the home of Mr. Ross, called on that gentleman, yesterday, with resolutions which were adopted denouncing Senator Trumbull for his course in the Impeachment, and declaring him false to his constituents, and adding that if he is unable to vote for the conviction of Mr. Johnson, he should abstain from voting at all.

UNION LEAGUE OF WILLIAMSPORT, PENN.

At a meeting of the Union League in Williamsport, Penn., on Thursday evening, strong resolutions were passed condemning the action of recent Senators, and sustaining the friends of impeachment.

A HINT FOR MR. FESSENDEN.

A large meeting was held in Bath, Me., on Thursday night. Resolutions were adopted approving the course of Senator Morrill, and repudiating Fessenden.

ANOTHER WORD FOR FESSENDEN'S EAR.

A mass meeting was held in Bangor City Hall on Thursday evening. Resolutions were unanimously adopted, in substance, that the evidence against Mr. Johnson is conclusive, and, hoping, notwithstanding reports to the contrary, that both of the Senators from Maine will vote for conviction.

JUST AS MIGHT BE EXPECTED.

At a Democratic meeting in San Francisco on Wednesday night, Eugene Caserly, United States Senator elect, and the Hon. S. B. Axell, Representative in Congress, severely denounced the efforts in Washington to coerce Senators in the Impeachment. The San Francisco Times and The Evening Bulletin decry the course of the Republicans.

INTERESTING TO SENATOR HENDERSON.

The Republicans of St. Joseph, in convention, on Thursday, declared that the conviction of Andrew Johnson is demanded by the interest of the nation; and that under the evidence adduced every Senator who votes for acquittal, forfeits the confidence of loyal men.

ACTION OF THE AFRICAN M. E. CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The clergy and laity of the African M. E. Church assembled in the Wesley Zion Church edifice to-day, and offered prayers for the Senate of the United States. The invocations were many and fervent.

INDIGNATION OF THE BOYS IN BLUE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—The "Boys in Blue" held a large and enthusiastic meeting to-night. Gen. Joshua T. Owen presided, and, in seconding the following resolutions, said that there seemed to be every indication that certain Senators would "go back" on their original position. If such was the case, he trembled for our public men. It showed a want of moral vitality not only among them, but in a nation. He desired an expression of sentiment in Philadelphia. He believed that the Republican party could appeal to the nobility and generosity of all men. The liberties of the people were imperiled. It is possible that this condition of affairs may lead us to new difficulties. "If so, let us be prepared." (Heartily applause.) Gen. Charles H. F. Collis then offered the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, James W. Grimes, William P. Fessenden, and Lyman Trumbull, purporting to represent the loyal people of the United States, as well as Iowa, Maine, and Illinois, PROMPTED BY MALICE, JEALOUSY, DISAPPOINTMENT, AND PERIODICLY BY A WISH TO NAME, HAVE CONSPIRED TO PLACE THE GOVERNMENT WHICH WE HAVE SAVED FROM HER ARMED ENEMIES ABSOLUTELY IN CONTROL OF HER ENEMIES, AND TO DESTROY THE LIBERTIES OF THE FREE REBELS.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved, That, recognizing in this execrable scheme a plot to augment the forces of the common enemy, we warn them that their perfidy will impugn our devotion to the great party which we have espoused; and that the Senate will be censured if they do not expose the conduct of these traitors.

Resolved,